

Prof. Poonam Pradhan Saxena is presently the Vice chancellor of National Law University, Jodhpur. Prior to that she was the professor in charge of Law Centre -II faculty of law, University of Delhi, Delhi. She specializes in Family Law, property law, women and law and was teaching in Delhi University for the past 32 years. She is a senior Fulbright scholar and has delivered lectures on family law in University of Baltimore, Maryland USA. She is also the recipient of Shastri Indo Canadian women and development award fellowship, pursuant to which she has delivered lectures on women and law related topics in eleven different universities across Canada. She has authored nine books on law including four volumes on Halsbury's laws of India. She has written more than 50 articles that have been published in national and international journals and books of repute. A prolific speaker she has addressed judges at National judicial academy, academicians and legislators from foreign countries and delivered lectures at several other national and international forums.

