

Shanthi Johnson

Shanthi Johnson

Professor and associate dean (research and graduate studies)

Faculty of Kinesiology and Health Studies,

University of Regina, Saskatchewan and

Research faculty member, Saskatchewan Population Health and Evaluation Research Unit.

Prof. Johnson had received SHARP (Shastri Applied Research Project) grant from Shastri Indo-Canadian Institute in 2005-06. The project was titled as “Promoting Healthy Ageing through Community Development in India: A Study of Kerala”. The primary policy recommendation of the study was to set up geriatric medical facilities or wards at both government and private hospitals and medical college.

She served as a two year term as Vice- President & President of Shastri Indo-Canadian Institute and before that she served as Secretary Treasurer. Dr. Johnson has given over 150 presentations at various national and international conferences, media interviews, and has several publications in scientific journals including the Lancet. She has served/is serving in several boards and committees at the provincial, national and international levels such as Shastri Indo-Canadian Institute, Canadian Coalition of Global Health Research, and Saskatchewan Health Research Foundation.